Event labelled by the French Academy for Innovation and Entrepreneurship (AEI)

Thursday the 24th and Friday the 25th of March 2022

Conference organised by VALLOREM Research Unit,
University of Orléans, University of de Tours (France)

For its first edition, the main objective of this conference is to promote ongoing or completed research related to the management of creativity and innovative practices and to exchange on related themes and the issues they raise.

Paper proposals may examine a variety of innovative and creative practices (technical and technological innovations, managerial innovations, marketing innovations, accounting and financial innovations, social innovations, innovations aiming at improving people well-being, innovations available to territories, etc.) considered in various environments (industrial sector, services sector including organisations dedicated to care and public services, third sector, etc.) and through several types of questioning:

- Process for developing innovations, innovative and creative organisations, innovative business models;
- Role of actors and process of appropriation of new management tools and practices;
- Practical, social and financial acceptability of innovations;
- Motivations and determinants of innovation and organisational creativity;
- Financing of innovations and innovative organisations (crowdfunding, micro-financing, start-up financing, etc.);
- Support for innovative and entrepreneurial initiatives;
- Governance, control, performance of innovative and creative practices and organisations;
- Impact of innovations (organisational impact, impact on activities, professions and skills, accounting, financial and stock market impact, etc.);
- Legitimacy of innovative managerial practices;
- Questioning the truly innovative aspect of some practices...

The questions raised in this call for papers are not exhaustive. This conference on the management of creativity and innovative practices is opened to all theoretical frameworks, methodological approaches and fields of study.

FORMAT AND VALORISATION

The format of proposed papers (written in French or English) should not exceed 5 pages (excluding cover page, bibliographic references and appendices). The style sheet to be respected can be downloaded from the webpage dedicated to the CréaPI conference: <https://vallorem.fr/version-francaise/creapi>.

The accepted papers, divided into thematic workshops, will be published in the digital proceedings of the conference (which will be accessible from the VALLOREM research unit website).

Following the conference, authors will be invited to submit their contribution for publication in journals referenced by the FNEGE. In this perspective, a time of exchange with chief editors (and/or associate editors) of several French-speaking journals is planned for a plenary session on Friday the 25th of March.

The conference will also feature plenary roundtables led by invited researchers.

OPTIMAL WORKING CONDITION

For your comfort and to facilitate exchanges between participants, the conference is organised in the centre of Orléans. The conference venue (Centre International Universitaire pour la Recherche - Hôtel Dupanloup), hotels, restaurants and the historic city centre are all located near the Orléans train station. All your journeys can therefore be done walking.
